Greetings Unto the Populace of Loch Salann,

Recently we have lost the services of two Gentles presently holding Officer positions. Lady Aeschine Larke and Lady Claire Frevisse DeMont St. Michel. These Ladies will be sorely missed. I would like to Thank them for all the time and effort they have donated to the Barony.

This will open the offices of Herald and Minister of the Lists. Please anyone that feels they would be willing to serve the Barony in either position send letters of intent. There are people in the Barony willing to teach you the responsibilities of either office. Be brave, step up, and write that letter.

As you know, at Uprising each year we plan the calendar for the following year. Here follows the dates and events that we will be having in the year 2001.

HEARTHWARDING X : TO LIVE THE DREAM

August 18 - 20, 2000 Wendell, Idaho

Through the heart of Twae Linnes runs the River known simply as "The Snake". Slowly winding its way deep in its canyon towards the sea many miles away, it passes an isle of lush vegetation, shady and cool with many trees and covered with a carpet of deep green grass. Falling from the side of the Canyon, waterfalls cause a soft mist to float serenely about, before settling into a gently flowing brook weaving its way slowly among the rocks and boulders to join the Snake on its journey. Upon these boulders, someone easily mistaken as wood nymphs can be seen sunning themselves after a cool refreshing swim, while Pelicans and cranes wheel lazily about in the air. Throughout our glorious history as Artemisian's, we have always held that there is a time to work hard and be serious and a time to let our hair down and have fun; to "Live the Dream". In this tradition, Hearthwarming was founded as an event to come and leave the cares and worries of responsibility behind and live our dreams, if only for a few days. This year we will thus celebrate the tenth year of the Hearthwarming, and we invite all our friends, both those that have come and shared the Dream with us for many a year, and those we have yet to meet to come and share their Dream with us. Come, share in our traditions and help us to create new ones. Among the traditional activities occurring will be the Hearthwarming tournament, the torchlight greatsword tournament, our freeform bardic prize tournament, and of course . . . eating. This year's new activities will include a horse drawn hayride, highland games, equestrian activities, and many activities for the young lords and ladies to be looked after by our own Pied Piper, Lady Francesca. As always, food plays a major part in Hearthwarming. Some have even been known to say "If you go away hungry, it's your own fault." In times past, we have been challenged as to our ability to suitably fulfill this promise, and have proven our claim well enough that a certain young Lord begged that we cease. For those who arrive on Friday, there will be the customary pot of "rock stew" keeping warm on the hearth till the wee sma' hours of the night. Both Saturday and Sunday mornings will see all-you-can-eat breakfasts, while Saturday evening you will be stuffed with a pound of meat and all the trimmings. The site is the beautiful Emerson Pugmire Memorial Park (formerly known as Niagara Springs) down in the Snake River Canyon surrounded by the Snake River on two sides, and a clear, cool spring-fed stream on the third. Required miscellaneous information: The site is wet, so bring drinkables (no glass containers). Pets are welcome, but leashes are REQUIRED. Fires are limited to the built in firepits or to above-ground fireproof portable pits, though tiki torches and such are allowed. There are dumpsters on site, and there will be garbage removal. SITE OPENS: Friday August 18th at 12 noon and CLOSES Sunday August 20th at 4 PM. SITE FEE: $7 FEAST FEE : $11 Children 6 yrs to 12 yrs are 1/2 price; Children 5 and younger are free. Advance reservations are appreciated, but not required: "If you come, we will feed you" Make check's payable to: "Shire of Twae Linnes, SCA, Inc." PO Box 347, Filer ID 83328 DIRECTIONS: From I-84 east or west take Wendell exit #157. Turn South toward the canyon. Continue 9 miles the road will turn and head down into the canyon. Follow to the site. The road will be marked with signs from the exits on.

(Taken from the Twae Linnes website)

After a while, we all meandered over to one of the pavillions, and there were joined by more musicians: Lady Cecily de Percy (guitar), Lord Albion (guitar and guittarone), and Lady Bengte (percussion). Since nothing was happening, and the musicians were handy, Baron Niccolo Gianfigliuzzi Genovese used the open space between the pavillions to dance Amaroso with Lady Aeschine Larke.

About one o'clock, Lady Muirenn blew her trumpet and the last court of King Connor and Queen Faun began. During this final court, there were several arts presentations. Lord Albion sang Under a Violet Moon, accompanying himself on guitar. This song is said to be a favorite of Faun's. Lord Wilhelm von Adlersheim sang a song in German, bidding farewell to his king and queen. After the Queen's Guard stepped down, this same lord commemorated the event with some quite good poetry "For Those Who Guard the Queen." Lady Cecily de Farington sang Gryphon of Artemisia, a song she had originally written in honor of Sir Sean Kirkpatrick. The king presented a signet ring portraying a gryphon to Sir Sean Kirkpatrick, mentioned here because it was a fine example of silversmithing. Lord Albion played his guitar as background while Connor and Faun divested themselves of the trappings of power (also artworks), the mantles (Mistress Yelismet Katlin Savrasova), the sword of state (I wish I knew), and the crowns themselves (Mistress Carol of Stargate). They processed out to the Non Nobis Domine from Henry V, a chorus led by Wilhelm von Adlersheim and joined in by many others.

A variety of fine scrolls were presented during this and the following courts. These were by a variety of people, including (at least) the following: Joanna de Paladin (2), Mistress Casamira Jawjalny, Tangwistle (2), Mistress Margaret Mendeith, and--doubtless--several others. (I did not start taking notes until this court was half over.) Also noteworthy in this first court of the day (and last court of Connor and Faun) was the sense of theater shown by their herald, Dame Varia Goffe. She was everything a herald should be. Not only was she loud enough to hear, but she announced all that was happening.

We broke for lunch. Lady Isabeau Somme de Ville and her kitchen staff have certainly mastered the Art of Cooking. The food available for both and lunch and dinner was of a very good quality.

Sometime after 3:00, the Coronation itself began to happen. Lady Muirenn's trumpet sounded the start, and the populous participated in a bit of theater as they tossed rose petals over HRH Basil and Renee. When they came up to the front of the court, Basil and Renee were seen to be wearing new clothing, very much in the German mode. Their costumes were made for them by Lady Heloise de Bec, with the assistance of Sir Gregory de Bec, Baroness Cortelyn, Mistress Elisabeth, her Ladyship Morwenna Oriana, and a friend named Robyn. Lady Velma of the Purple Dragon supplied music for this court from time to time, playing her harp. Lord Braden sang as Basil brought his lady forward to be crowned. While the crowns were passed around, Basil and Renee assumed the mantles and chains of state (the former by Mistress Katlin, the latter by Mistress Carol of Stargate), and The Burden of the Crown was sung by Lord Conchochbar (pronounced "Connor"). During the swearing of fealties, Albion played the Artemisian Anthem on his guitar, joined by other musicians on a variety of instruments. I played solo during the populous swearing, feeling rather lonely. Connor and Faun received coronets in honor of their change in status to Count and Countess. These were designed by Master William. Lord Sqytaan (pronounced "Sheetan") supplied the chainmail favors for the King's Guard, while the Queen's Courtiers and Ladies-in-Waiting were presented with drawstring bags of deep blue velvet with the outline of a gryphon's feather embroidered on them. A Charter for the Needleworkers' Guild of Artemisia was submitted to her majesty. While we waited for the recipient of a presentation to be found, Alan Youngforest told us all a delightful tale about a princess of Artemisia who had been abducted, leaving a trail of chocolate behind her all the way to An Tir.

Before this court closed, it was announced that all those wishing to compete to be the new Bard of Artemisia should report to the current holder of the title, Lord Albion. This competition was to take place after the Rapier Competition, and after the feast. Alas, I cannot report on it, for, along with most of the other instrumental musicians, I had only come for the day, and had to leave after the feast. (CONGRATULATIONS LORD BRADEN!!!!) It was exquisitely delicious, and well worth waiting for.

Also worth mentioning, in connection with the fabric arts, is the costume Mistress Courtney (from Dael Beort) made for Mistress Casamira Jawjalny. It is a complete set of motley, or and gules, complete with cap and bells. Both Casamira and her bauble ("Shirley U Geste") think they may have found the look for this Polish Punster.

My apologies for the haphazard use of titles. If you are a "Master" and I listed you as a "Lord" or "m'lady" and I listed you as "Lady," please forgive me. I am but a humble musician, and I did at least manage to get the musicians and instruments listed together fairly accurately. Yours in Service... (Mistress Anne de Junius)

From the Chronicler:

Well Met Loch Salann.

The special Arts & Sciences edition of the Quill is fast approaching. I am looking for articles covering the major A&S categories as well as artwork, etc. While I would love to see an article covering each category, I realize that we aren't writing a book; however, as many categories as will fit would be wonderful! I challenge the Guilds to produce at least one submission in their area of expertise, as well as a brief introduction of their Guild. If you have any questions or suggestions, please contact me. The sooner I have submissions and can put the issue together, the greater our options for special deals on the printing cost. Thank you.

In Service, Lady Rhianna MacGregor

Exchequer's Report ~ June/July 2000

Greetings unto you, the populace of Loch Salann!
The Baronial Financial Committee includes our Baroness Elyn, our Seneschal Lady Meghan, and myself (Lady Sorcha). We along with the other Baronial Officers discuss the situations that are placed before us and decide if it will help to build "The Dream" for our Barony.

If you need money for something or to be reimbursed for an approved expense then please give me a call (801-463-6821) so that we can arrange a time to meet. For safety reasons I do not carry the Baronial check book to every Baronial activity, also our account requires 2 signatures on the checks so I would need to make sure another member of the finance committee is also available as well.

If you have any questions or comment please feel free to call, write or e-mail me. All my contact information is available in the Quill and Baronial Directory.

In Service,
Lady Sorcha M. Corrigan

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR...

Artemisian Games , The autocrats need volunteers in the following areas:
Collecting site fees—The table will be open from Thurs. at 4 pm to Sat. around 4 pm. The more people who volunteer to help, the fewer long hours will be required by anyone. PLEASE help out with this, even if you can only give an hour
Security—Same thing, more hands make light work.
Warranted marshals for both rapier and heavy fighting.

From the Cook's Corner

On the evening of July 11, 2000, the members of the Baronial Cook's guild met at Lordship Vogg's new abode to hold our scheduled meeting. Unfortunately Lordship Vogg had been called away by urgent family business. So Mistress Casamira, Master Edward, Mistress Margaret, Lordship James, Lady Rhiannon, and Lady Constance spent the evening discussing the "Great Goose Project" that we will be putting in the A&S Quill this fall.

Since no food was prepared, the following recipe comes from the "Great Goose Project" and the Cook's Guild archives. We hope you like this recipe.

Guissell
(Herb Stuffing)
1/2 cup beef or poultry stock
1 teaspoon minced sage
1 Tablespoon parsley flakes or 1 sprig fresh parsley, minced
A pinch powdered saffron
3 eggs, beaten
1 cup bread crumbs

Place broth and spices in a pot and bring to a boil. Meanwhile combine eggs and bread crumbs in a bowl. Add the bread crumb mixture all at once to the broth. Reduce heat and stir until it all comes together more or less in a ball and all the liquid is absorbed. Serve hot. Makes about 2 cups.

Cook's Guild welcomes all interested parties to our meetings. For more information please contact Master Edward at (801) 571-3678 or Lordship Vogg at (801) 260-1939. Our next scheduled meeting will be held on Aug. 1, 2000, at the home of HL Vogg. We hope to see you all there.

Happy Eating,
The Cook's Guild

You are not alone. There are still snags in the membership application/renewal process carried over from our switch to Kingdom status. If you are receiving the Southwind rather than the Sage Advice, it is because your zip code is stuck in the "Atenveldt Zone." You should send a letter directly to our Kingdom Seneschal in order to get this fixed. Her contact information is: Viscountess Courtney Caesaria Almy (Barbara Bourke)
